

UNABLE TO MEET ALLIED DEMANDS

Dr. Dernburg Declares Germany Cannot Carry Out Financial Conditions.

BURDEN IS TOO HEAVY

Berlin Minister of Finance Reiterates His Recent Declaration That Teuton Envoys Will Not Sign Peace Terms.

London, June 9.—In an interview telegraphed by the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent, Dr. Bernard Dernburg, German minister of finance, insists upon Germany's inability to meet the financial demands of the peace terms and the inability of the Allies to make her pay.

Dr. Dernburg reiterates his recent declaration that Germany will not sign the terms as presented and continues: "As a matter of fact, neither the Entente nor Germany is capable of signing this peace. Germany cannot pay and the Entente cannot make Germany pay. You can invade Germany and occupy the Ruhr basin, and nobody will stand in your way, if you wish to come to Berlin. But when you are there, what are you going to do?"

"Your only hope of reparation lies in getting the German people to work producing goods which they can give the Allies against money indemnity, but first they must have food and then raw materials. You must make terms which will enable you to get your reparations reasonably soon. You do not suppose that our children are going to remain slaves because their parents lost the war."

Dr. Dernburg elsewhere in the interview speaks derisively of President Wilson.

"I thought he came over here as a new sort of redeemer, in the role of a savior of mankind," the finance minister is quoted as saying, "but I have not found in the peace treaty one word of his peace of conciliation and good will."

KEYMEN ORDERED OUT

Nationwide Strike of Operators Begins on Wednesday.

Union Headquarters Estimates That Between 60,000 and 100,000 Persons Will Be Involved

Chicago, June 9.—A nationwide strike of telegraph and telephone operators who are members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America was ordered to take effect next Wednesday at 8 a. m., standard time.

The order was issued at general headquarters of the union here on telegraphic instructions from S. J. Konenkamp, international president, while in Pittsburgh on his way to Chicago.

The strike order is declared to apply to employees of the Western Union Telegraph company, the American Telephone & Telegraph company, and the Postal Telegraph & Cable company, with associated institutions.

It was estimated at headquarters here that the strike would affect between 60,000 and 100,000 individuals, of whom nearly 25,000 were said to be members of the union. Outside of the union ranks, it was said, many wire workers had pledged themselves to support a strike.

In Chicago, it was said, more than 4,000 wire workers will be affected. President Konenkamp declared weeks ago that Postmaster General Burleson, who had taken over control of the wire systems, had refused to grant the employees increased wages demanded, and that unless the union was recognized and the men given relief from the high prices a strike would be inevitable.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS TAKE UP CONSIDERATION OF A THE SEPARATE PEACE WITH GERMANY

(By United Press)

Washington, June 8.—Republican leaders in the senate are giving serious thought to the possibilities of making a separate peace between the United States and Germany. Though none of them would voice his views today for publication, it can be stated that they are fully aware that one result of the senate opposition to the league of nations covenant and the treaty may be a separate peace.

They foresee an attempt to create a "race" between allied nations and the senate to ratify the treaty which specifically provides that it shall become valid when ratified by three of the allied or associate powers. That is, if France, England and Italy, all bound not to sign a separate peace, should ratify the treaty before the senate does, it would end the war so far as these nations are concerned and allow them at once to resume commercial relations with Germany.

The United States, however, as the senators view it, would be left with a state of war with Germany still in existence and the other nations given a head start on the resumption of business dealings.

That this possibility will be emphasized to the senate, republican leaders have no doubt. They are not disturbed by it however, declaring they see no calamity in it. Congress declared war on Germany and can quite as easily declare the war ended, in these senators' opinion, then by a separate treaty of amity of commerce relations could be resumed.

Big Bankers Quizzed in Treaty Leak Inquiry

BY L. C. MARTIN, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 9.—The senate foreign relations committee today subpoenaed J. P. Morgan, Frank A. Vanderlip and a number of other big New York bankers as witnesses in the investigation of the "treaty leak". The committee action closely followed the presentation by Senator Hitchcock of a cablegram to him from President Wilson in which the president seconded the Hitchcock demand for investigation of the charges by Senators Lodge and Borah that the text of the treaty is in the hands of persons in New York. In his cablegram the president said: "Any one who has possession of the official English text has what he is clearly not entitled to have or to communicate."

COUNCIL MAKES SOME PROGRESS

Peace Conference Leaders Continue Their Study of Foe Counter Proposals.

END APPEARS IN SIGHT

Departure of President Wilson for the United States Is Reported as Probable Within Ten Days or Two Weeks.

Paris, June 9.—The Council of Four, with Premier Orlando of Italy absent, again went over the German counter proposals and while various days have been mentioned unofficially for replying to the Germans no agreement has been reached by the council. The latest belief expressed is that an understanding may be arrived at the end of the week.

It may be significant of an early impending agreement that the departure of President Wilson for the United States is reported as probable within ten days or two weeks.

The discussion included one of the most difficult outstanding questions—that affecting the German-Polish frontier. The presentation of a majority of the minor commissions' reports is expected to occupy the council's attention today. It has been pointed out that this may make more rapid progress possible.

A plan for the solution of the Adriatic problem which has the approval of the Peace conference will form part of the discussions taking place at the Italian frontier between Premier Orlando and Vice Premier Colosimo.

The peace terms for Austria are again assailed. President Seltz before the national assembly described them as "impossible and as meaning the death of the country by starvation."

Count Von Brockdorff-Rauzau has returned to Versailles from his visit to Germany.

Calis Versus Impossible

Vienna, June 9.—The peace terms presented to Austria are impossible and mean the death of the country by starvation, President Seltz declared in opening the extraordinary session of the national assembly. THREE BURN TO DEATH Lose Their Lives in Apartment House Fire at Duluth.

When Firemen Arrived at Scene Tenants Were Calling for Help From Third Story.

Duluth, June 9.—Three persons were killed and another seriously injured when a fire broke out in an apartment house on Third street here last night.

The dead: William A. Behnke, Mrs. Mary Behnke and Miss Alma Pedersen. The injured are: Mrs. James E. Moore and James E. Moore.

When the fire department arrived at the scene, tenants were shrieking for help from the third story windows, out of which heavy columns of smoke were pouring. With the corridors aflame, the roomers were cut off from access to the fire escapes. Before ladders could be raised or life nets spread three of the tenants had suffocated.

William A. Behnke, his mother and aunt took refuge in room 391 from the fire, being cut off from the stairs and fire escapes by flames. Hundreds of spectators on the street, unable to render assistance, saw Behnke appear at the window and beg for a ladder. Before a fire net could be spread he had fallen back into the room and rescuers who tried to enter by the window were beaten back by the smoke. All three were found dead in the room.

THREE THOUSAND PEASANTS SLAIN

Hungarian Red Army Shoots and Hangs Men, Women and Children.

ONE VILLAGE BURNED

Massacre of Inhabitants of Thirty-two Towns Surrounding Odenburg Follows Their Refusal to Join the Anarchists.

Vienna, June 9.—Three thousand peasants, including women and children, have been shot or hanged by the Red Army as a consequence of revolts in Western Hungary around Odenburg, according to news considered trustworthy which has been received here. The entire village of Kolhof was burned.

The massacre took place after thirty-two villages surrounding Odenburg had refused to go over to Bolshevism. They desired to join Austria.

Bela Kun, communist leader and minister of foreign affairs, and Joseph Pogany, Bolshevik minister of war, visited the districts and then sent orders to Commissioner Semely, to whom such class of work is usually deputed because of his bloodthirsty character, to conduct requisitions of clothing, food and imperial paper crowns, now called "blue" money, to distinguish it from "red" or soviet money.

The peasants, according to the advice gathered an army, numbering a few thousand, armed with rifles, axes, scythes and similar weapons, against which a Red division was sent. The peasants were surrounded. Kolhof was shelled, then machine guns were turned against it on Thursday and Friday nights. A majority of those fleeing from the burning village were shot, those who were captured were hanged. The entire Odenburg district has been declared in a state of siege and a military dictatorship proclaimed.

Another serious revolt against the Bolshevik regime is reported from western Hungary. It is said to have been started by a Hussar regiment. Counter revolutionary movements are reported from other parts of the country by farmers, burghers and members of the working classes refusing to recognize Bolshevism.

The new Hungarian minister has opened negotiations with the Vienna Socialists regarding the transformation of the Budapest government.

Severe fighting is in progress between Budapest and Vienna between the Czechoslovaks and the Hungarian communists. The Hungarians have crossed the Neutra and are threatening Pressburg (Pozsony).

PARTY CHAIRMEN
SEEKING HARMONY

BOTH HAYS AND CUMMINGS
HAVE TROUBLES TO COMPOSE IN HOUSE MEMBERSHIP.

STEERING COMMITTEE ISSUE

Many Republicans Demand That It Be "Enlarged and Liberalized"—Democratic Opposition to Clark as Minority Floor Leader.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, have their work cut out for them along campaigning lines for the next year plus the odd months which will bring them up to national convention time.

The first work of these two questionably amiable gentlemen is one of harmonizing. Mr. Hays has been in Washington on a harmonizing errand quite recently, and Mr. Cummings also is bending his efforts along a parallel line. It is needless to say that Mr. Hays is not trying to bring about harmony within the Democratic ranks, nor is Mr. Cummings trying to do a like work for the Republicans.

Each one of these chairmen probably hopes in his heart that the efforts of the other to bring harmony will be a dismal failure, and this hope, of course, is not felt in mere meanness of spirit, but in the heart desire of each chairman that his party will be helped toward the goal of success by lack of sweetness, light and concord in the ranks of the other party.

There is trouble in the ranks of both of these great parties today as they are represented in the halls of congress. Just prior to the reconvening of congress in special session on the date yet to be fixed the members of congress of both parties in the house will meet in caucus, the majority either to sanction or to veto the state of officials written at a previous caucus, and the other party to choose its minority floor leader and the other officials to which the minority is entitled.

Fuss Over Steering Committee.
Recently the Republicans in the house have had trouble because a steering committee was appointed with only a small membership which was not entirely to the liking of a minority of the party members. The steering committee is the body which fixes on legislative policies, and legislative endeavor as outlined in the form of bills. It is an all powerful organization. Some 80 or 90 Republicans in the house maintain that the steering committee of five members which recently was appointed is not representative of the Republican party in its various fields of thought. So it is that an endeavor is to be made to "enlarge and liberalize" the committee

when the Republicans of the house meet in caucus.

Mr. Hays, it is said, favors an enlargement of the steering committee to meet the wishes of the Republicans who have declared that the membership in that body represents only one element in the party.

When the caucus is held it finally will be determined whether the influence of the Republican national chairman has been sufficient to bring about the result desired by a large minority of the Republicans and with it the harmony which is necessary for a party which is just about to enter on a strenuous political campaign.

Some Democrats Oppose Clark.

Not so much has been made public about Mr. Cummings' work along harmonizing lines, but it is known that he desires above all things that the Democratic minority in the next house shall not appear to be split either on matters of legislation or on what may be called personal matters. There is some opposition among the Democrats in the house to the selection of Champ
Clark as floor leader of the minority.
Just how strong or how numerous the opponents of Mr. Clark are is not yet definitely known, and it also is a little difficult to find out on just what ground the opposition is based, but in a way the charge of his opponents is that he has not been entirely in accord with the policies of the present administration.

There is a feeling among the politicians in Washington that neither Mr.
Cummings nor Mr. Hays is worrying to any great extent over present conditions in their respective parties as represented in the house of representatives. Both of these chairmen probably go on the supposition that
"most of our troubles never happen."
It is a characteristic of Washington political life that the trouble which is a present-day matter to either party always is exaggerated in its importance. There is a terrible row one day, the press is filled with the details of it, and yet in a month the row has been forgotten by the press, the parties and the public. Of course, this is not always true, but it is true always concerning the rows which are purely personal in their nature. Splits in the two parties on matters of high national moment are a different thing.

New York, June 9.—The Baptist denomination, through the American Baptist Home Mission society, will be-educational campaign for Americanizaof radicalism, it was announced here by F. W. Ayer, chairman of the Na-

Laymen.

The campaign, he said, would be directed not only towards un-American-ized aliens, but also towards persons "who are American born but not American in spirit."

26 CHILDREN WERE CONFIRMED

Swedish Lutheran Church Was Beautifully Decorated for the Occasion on Sunday

2 OF THE CHILDREN BAPTIZED

Reunion of Classes Confirmed Held in the Evening, 125 of Whom Were Present

Sixteen boys and ten girls were confirmed Sunday at the Swedish Lutheran church. The services started at 10 o'clock and the church was filled with friends and members of the congregation.

Two of the children were baptized, this ceremony being very impressive. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Those confirmed were Agda C. Erickson, Bertha R. Erickson, Isabelle M. Westphal, Mabel E. C. Johnson, Gladys L. Gustafson, Cora S. Mattson, Sigrid R. Lund, Mabel C. A. Linn, Edward J. Englund, Walter E. Larson, Werner G. Lind, George Roy Carlson, Adolph G. Carlson, Albert M. Swanson, Henry E. Petersen, Clarence S. Nelson, William A. Carlson, Kenneth E. Brackner, Milton W. Westberg, Erick S. Olson, George Anderson, Knute Anderson, Emil L. Johnson, Edna G. Johnson, Myrtle L. Carlson.

In the evening there was a reunion of the classes confirmed. In the last seven years there were five classes numbering about 125 of whom the larger percentage was present in the evening and a program carried out consisting of the class history from each class. Hannah Linn, Alice Anderson, Hazel Worden and Elsie Hedlund read class histories.

This evening the Luther League will give a reception for the new class confirmed which will be taken into the League.

Soldiers' Swear Words.

Despite the chaplains, the men developed the habit of swearing; soldiers always have. War requires emphatic expression. It destroys flexibility of expression—and "damn" and "hell" do seem the fullest description of a soldier's occupation.

"It's an innocent kind of swearing, though," said a chaplain. "It does not really blaspheme, and the men will fall out of the habit when they return home. They don't do it in a chaplain's presence—unless they are under fire, when chaplains are too busy to attend to such details."

They did not swear when they were in the presence of women—and least of all in the hospitals where they were ministered to by those hard working, practical, noble army nurses who submitted to discipline as sharp as that of the men, and where they learned to appreciate womanhood at its best.

"THE MASQUERADER"

Play at the Park Theatre on Friday Night, July 4, Special Engagement

The story of the two men, John Loder and John Chilcote, who looked exactly alike and had that likeness revealed by the flash of a match in a London fog, is one which no one who ever read it can forget. It has made as good a play as it was a book and with Guy Bates Post playing both the men it is said to provide the ideal of entertainment. Richard Walton Tully made the production and he will present Mr. Post in it at the Park theatre for one night only on Friday, July 4.

John Hunter Booth made the dramatic version of the story and in the making sacrificed none of the mystery and charm which held the reader until the last page. In the play one must see the beginning and the end for there is so much worth while both in the playing and the play that none of it can be lost. Mr. Post has just closed an engagement of eighteen weeks in Chicago and comes to this city with the company and production exactly as it was seen there.

Mr. Boies urged that the government give the men cash "with no strings attached."

Mink Stole and a Hudson Bay Seal Cape With Stole Ends Tied in the Back, Among the Distinctive Models Being Shown for Spring Wear.

NEW SPRING FURS MAKE THEIR BOW

Neckpieces Are Soft Stoles and Scarfs of Mink, Hudson Bay Sable and Fisher.

MISS ERMINE AND WHITE FOX

Peltry Formerly in Highest Favor Is Having a Quiet Rest—Some of the Seasonable Jackets and Coatees.

Now it seems we divide our furs into three seasons at least—spring, summer and winter. The newest furs are called spring furs. They are very new and they are very lovely. For the most part this spring, writes a prominent fashion correspondent, the newest neckpieces are soft little stoles and scarfs of mink, Hudson bay sable and fisher. One animal is used for the whole piece to give a smart effect and clasps the wearer's neck tight and close. No furry animal is ever softer and richer than the light brown sable. The little head and paws and tail are left on to attest the beauty of the little creature after the furriers have done their utmost to him. The small neckpieces for which the sables are used are worn by the greater number of women clasped in the back or at one side. These little fur pieces have not been so much in favor for the last few years as they were some years back, and because of their return to favor this spring we may say they are having a revival. I have seen no fur pieces in years prettier or more becoming to almost every wearer than the new ones made of three animals to give length sufficient to wrap around the throat and leave a long end on each side. Worn with one of the new jaunty tricorne hats and a smart frock this sort of fur necklace, if one may so style it, is intensely stylish and becoming. These are not very wide and as they are not flattened out, but are left the natural size, they make close-fitting collars of just the right height for the average neck.

All women know that furs worn close about the throat and well up to the chin are more becoming than the wide and flat pieces, however long and luxurious the hair of the latter may be. It must be borne in mind that I am speaking now of the spring fur pieces, for later on we shall doubtless turn with the same enthusiasm we have shown the last three years toward our foxes and lynxes and wide, flat stoles of mole and mink, kolinsky and wolf. As it is, the smaller creatures are in just at this time and are being received with much enthusiasm.

Mole and Squirrel Blend.

It is astonishing how beautifully some skins combine, as I observed in a splendid new narrow stole of mole with squirrel trimming and big round fur balls finishing each end. This is to be worn much as the skating scarfs of Angora wool are worn, with one end thrown over a shoulder, or if one fancies, by belting in each end and letting the fur stole fall thus over each shoulder and down the front.

Russian sable is the fur de luxe, rich and exquisite in texture as in color. Three skins have been put together in a charming manner which reveals the coloring underneath as well as on top. Fisher resembles somewhat the pointed fox, but is not quite so soft. It is tipped with a tiny fleck along the hairs and thus has a silvery look which is attractive. Fashion seems to lean heavily, however, to the Russian and Hudson Bay sables and because the Hudson Bay sable is smaller than the Russian kind it seems to be in the lead. Stone marten, too, is in demand. Though much larger, it has a lighter color underneath and is softer than these others.

Now as to the jackets, coatees and capes—it resolves itself literally into the matter of paying your money and taking your choice, for these little fur wraps are enchanting and really almost indispensable in the cool days of spring. Many of them have long, tight sleeves of the fur and others are nothing more than high and deep collars, sometimes with revers of a contrasting fur added.

White Furs Out.

We see no white furs at all; even ermine, which used to represent a "lady" of the highest degree, is having a quiet rest. Can it be because ermine is so closely associated with royalty and now royalty is just about to be no more? Anyway, ermine is entirely out of the fashion and white fox, too, has had its day and is quiet also for a while.

To return to the jackets and coatees—the most conspicuous and lovely wrap one can see on a spring day is made with a loose hanging cape-like back of the softest, richest Russian sables. The upper part has the skins forming a yoke and going across and around the shoulders rather than down the back as the other skins which form the lower part of the wrap do. The front is formed into a sort of waistcoat, and is held in by a girdle of fur—oh, yes, of course the fur things of this sort have waistcoats, too. Indeed, one or two I have seen are really nothing but little waistcoats with sleeves added, and one model, at least, is a waistcoat in front with pointed ends and pockets, fur buttons and has no sleeves at all. The back hangs perfectly straight and loose from the shoulders.

Distinctive Seal Piece.

Seal has not been entirely neglected. An unusual effect has been achieved by making a seal cape, stopping just at the waist in the back and finishing with long stole ends in front which pass around the waist and tie, or rather loop, in the back. The upper part of this smart wrap reveals a high upstanding collar, which comes well up to the ears.

A new moleskin cape has the usual cape effect in the back and a short jacket effect in front where it ties with heavy silken cords and tassels. The upper part of the front is built much like a surplice and buttons just above the cord at the waistline.

To turn the fur of the Belgian hare into a near-seal is the intention of some Canadian furriers this season. So there will be a new fur on the market for next fall. Sealine it is to be named. Some coats will be made of it, but caperines, coatees, and small furpieces are what it will show itself in chiefly. A lower price than some of the other dyed furs is promised as one of its attractions.

Of the expensive furs, gray squirrel seems at present to be the spring fur for fashionably dressed people.

Later on it will be interesting to see further developments, when the summer fur season is at hand.

Overblouses Fashionable.

Overblouses are to continue an item of style interest and they will use colorings that are rich and vary. Colors used run from the brilliance of Victory red and jade green to the soft beauty of deep bisque and roseada. Variety of belt treatment and colorful embroidery are the distinguishing features of these blouses which are developed on full Russian lines with an occasional Japanese or Chinese variation. Embroidery is done chiefly in wool, with beads and tinsel following closely, often with a mingling of all three.

AMUSEMENTS

GO WILD OVER "THE UNPARDONABLE SIN"

Never before in the history of Brainerd has any production caused such a favorable riot of comment as "The Unpardonable Sin" which opened yesterday at the Park theatre. It drew large crowds in spite of very inclement weather.

Among the most interesting players in the cast of "The Unpardonable Sin," which is being shown at the Park theatre, are a group of particularly clever children, including Masters Wesley Barry and Bobbie Connolly. Bobbie Connolly, who is widely known among motion picture devotees, appears as a Belgian Boy Scout. Master Barry and two other youngsters are refugees, the first named a typical young American who has been caught in the European maelstrom and is fighting his way out, and the others a couple of Belgian orphans whom Master Barry has taken under his protecting wing. The children have most of the comedy interest in the big picture and also add much to the dramatic strength.

A scene in which Blanche Sweet, appearing as Dimmy Parrot, is subjected to a military search by a character calculated to strike terror to the heart of any woman, in Harry Carson's "The Unpardonable Sin," has been described as one of the most powerful that has ever been accomplished with the aid of the motion picture screen and projector. The action has been photographed through a silken diaphragm and shows the heroine's garments being torn from her, piece by piece.

Not a few people in the United States had read, perhaps with an interest born of mere curiosity, some of the coldly inhuman philosophy of Nietzsche before the world conflagration began in Europe. Later this philosophy became before interesting because of its apparent influence upon at least one nation engaging in the titanic struggle, "The Unpardonable Sin." Harry Carson's tremendous photoplay version of Major Rupert Hughes' story by the same name, uses some extracts from Nietzsche in a striking manner to show the falsity of the mad philosopher's teachings.

All in all this is perhaps the most interesting and highly thrilling production we have seen. It is the supreme masterpiece of the screen and a production that each one of our readers should see—his money well spent with unlimited amusement. The music with the production is exceptionally fine.

"The Unpardonable Sin" will be shown at the Park once again tonight at 8:30 and tomorrow night at 8:30. Don't fail to see it.

HAS FAIRY PAGEANT

Barnes Wild Animal Circus at Brainerd on Thursday, July 3—Four Ring Circus

Elephants, lions, pink lemonade and everthing circusy in its very newest and most brilliant dressing to visit Brainerd, Thursday, July 3.

Al. G. Barnes' big four-ring wild animal circus that has been in its winter quarters at Venice since last October getting all dolled up, is to open the 1919 season at Santa Monica March 20 and will make Long Beach the second show stand. This was somewhat of a novelty for Long Beach, as the show has usually closed its season in that city after a nine-month touring.

Every car, wagon and bolt has been given from four to seven coats of paint and two finishing coats, harness has been thoroughly gone over and bad or broken harness replaced by new band wignons have been gold-leaved and silvered, a complete set of wardrobe of the gaudy and most circusy ever seen has been made for the beautiful fairyland fantasy, "Alice in Wonderland," and for parade. Many new animals have been added, and all the past season's stellar acts enlarged.

Among the new and novel attractions will be a 40-piece marine band, every member having seen marine service sometime within the past three years and were former musicians of the show. At a great expense and much labor these service boys have been garnered and installed in old positions.

It is from Lewis Carroll's book of "Alice in Wonderland" that Al. G. Barnes has taken his character Alice for his big opening feature pageant and transplanted her into the heart of a real jungleland, weaving around her as if by magic not only a beautiful setting but a fairy paradise. "Alice in Wonderland" will be the title of this charming opening feature that will be a great charmer and natural history study for young and old.

Following the opening feature 110 distinct feature acts by animals will be presented in steel arenas and sawdust circles, and hippodrome lovers of the horses will appreciate the year's brand new horse feature of forty dancing horses and forty dancing girls. Those liking novelties will be interested in seeing the first sacred cattle ever exhibited as circus performers, performing hyenas as well as the only performing zebras, camels and llamas. Others desiring thrillers will find them a-plenty in the lion group, which is known all over the world as the largest lion group ever presented, a mixed wild animal act, leopard features, fighting pumas and like numbers. Clowns, elephants, monkeys and all the mirth producers are there, too, and plenty of good music and bunches of pretty girls.

There will be a parade in the morning, leaving the grounds at 10:30. Doors to the main show will open at 1 and 7 p. m., and for an hour preceding the performance the marine band will give a concert.

At the Best Today

When a slacker wakes up to a realization of his true position in society, then he will also wake up his mind that it is "never too late to repent." This happens in "Alias, Mike Moran." Wallace Reid's new Paramount picture which will be displayed at the Best theatre today.

WASHINGTON IS TO BE REAL CITY

BUSINESS MEN LAY PLANS TO MAKE IT SOMETHING MORE THAN NATION'S CAPITAL.

WOULD BOOM ITS INDUSTRIES

This Year's Fourth of July Celebration, With Giving of Medals to All District Soldiers, Will Be a Starter.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
 Washington.—For some years Washington has been trying to develop a city spirit as well as a national spirit. There are scores of business men in this town who know that because their home city is the capital of the United States, the development here has been along federal rather than municipal lines. They want to get some of the spirit of the D. C. as well as the spirit of the U. S. into the hearts of Washington residents.

On July Fourth this year Washington will have the greatest celebration of its existence, and to a considerable extent it will be local as well as national in its manifestations. It is the desire of the local committees to accentuate in the great doings of the day the part which the city of Washington as a city, and not as the capital of the nation, took in the great war just now drawing to a close.

When the soldiers of this city who went forth to war, and the residents of this town who took part in war work at home, have lived to be a year or so older they will find it difficult to carry about the various medals which have been given them for devotion to duty. Of course all the soldiers within a short time will be wearing the Victory medal which the war department has provided, the ribbon of service and the button to be worn when in civilian attire, and which will bear testimony that they fought abroad or worked here waiting for the word to go abroad.

Medal for District's Soldiers.
 Now it is the intention of the city of Washington as a city to give on the Fourth of July an additional medal to the 19,000 District residents who served either in the trenches abroad as fighters or in the departments as "sworn-in" war workers.

It is easy enough for Washington to get up a notable Fourth of July celebration. It can have all the speakers of national note which it desires, for they are ready at hand and always are willing to say the word, or, rather, the words, fitting for such occasions. It is hoped this year that President Wilson will make an Independence day address. Already Secretaries Daniels and Baker have promised to deliver addresses and to oversee in person the distribution of the 19,000 service medals to the sons and daughters of the District who took the oath for some kind of military service.

It would be uninteresting, perhaps, to give the planned details of the big celebration on the fourth of next month, for pageants are much alike, and perhaps all that it is necessary to say concerning the forthcoming one in this town is that it will be the "biggest thing that ever happened" within the shadows of the dome of the capitol and the Washington monument.

The people of the entire United States are beginning to show an interest in the efforts under way to make Washington a city as well as a national capital, that is, a city with all the appurtenances of industry which pertain to other big cities. As a matter of fact, it is well that the people of the United States should take an interest in this thing, for there are hundreds of level-headed men who believe that some of the desires of the business bodies of this town never should be allowed to see fulfillment.

Efforts to Boom Its Industry.
 On the other hand, there are those who think the other way. It seems best, at any rate, that the entire country should be heard from in this matter, for the character of the capital city in the future depends largely on the outcome of things which some of the foremost citizens of Washington are trying to accomplish.

From time to time there have been efforts to bring factories to the city of Washington in order to boom business. Today there are no factories, or none to amount to anything, within the limits of the city of Washington. This is a residential and an official city. Its white marble buildings are the wonder of the age. The place is, or was until the war broke out, placid and beautiful, and while it no longer is placid it still is beautiful. Its placidity will return when the rush and turmoil of war activities are of the past.

Some of the Washington people want factories here in order to boom business. Others are opposed to the plan, saying that it will ruin the nature of the town. Today an effort is being made to secure suffrage for the city of Washington and representation in the congress of the United States. If the present effort is successful Washington will be a voting city, and it may be that such things as the presence of factories and some other schemes for the business exploitation of the place may be put to the vote.

BOTH HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

George Bennett and Oscar Rono Charged With Crime in First Degree, are Bound Over

MRS. BENNETT WAS KILLED

Wife of Bennett and Sister of Rono Mistaken by Men for Deer and Accidentally Killed

Charged with manslaughter in the first degree, George Bennett, husband of the late Ragna Bennett, and Oscar Rono, her brother, were bound over to the district court following consideration of the case in municipal court before Judge Walter F. Wieland, when both waived examination. Bennett and Rono made individual confessions voluntarily, the first to the sheriff and the second to sheriff and county attorney, which corroborated, and seem to agree with the facts as ascertained by the authorities.

The accidental death of the woman is a most deplorable one, brother and husband having mistaken her for a deer in the vicinity of their home north of Crosby, the husband firing the fatal shot after the moving object had been pointed out by the brother of the dead woman. Both were horrified and terror-stricken when they found that the woman and not a supposed deer had been killed.

George Bennett was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Claus Theorin as a material witness to the fatal shooting of his wife, Ragna, Thursday night. His arrest came on the heels of a statement to the sheriff by Oscar Rono, a brother of the dead woman and who is also under arrest in which Rono asserted the woman was shot when she was mistaken for a deer.

Rono's arrest followed the coroner's inquest at which a verdict was returned to hold him in connection with the shooting of his sister. When placed in a cell at the county jail at Brainerd by Sheriff Theorin, Rono is alleged to have broken down and made his statement.

According to the story that Rono told, he and Bennett were returning from Crosby with a load of hay. When nearing the Bennett home, nine miles north of here, they saw what they believed was a deer in the road. It was dark and they could not see distinctly.

A shot followed. Rono declared that he then jumped from the hay wagon to investigate and found that it was his sister who had been shot. Death came instantly. The bullet entered the back of her head and came out at the nose.

The two men reported the tragedy to the neighbors, stating that they knew nothing more of the circumstances.

The Bennetts are well known in this territory.

CHARGED WITH BOOTLEGGING

J. H. Dinwiddie Taken After a Chase by Aitkin County Officers, Was Shot at by Officers

Sheriff J. E. Boekenoggen, Deputy Sheriff Olts and Marshal Osberg of Aitkin, after an exciting chase, arrested J. H. Dinwiddie, who has been stopping with a brother at Midland on Mille Lacs lake. When Deputy Olts saw Dinwiddie in the outskirts of the village emerging from some bushes carrying bags, he telephoned to Sheriff Boekenoggen, who set out in his automobile, but the man eluded him for a time. When the sheriff finally forced the fleeing man to run his car on to the curb, crushing a front tire, Dinwiddie leaped from the machine and was lost among the buildings until Marshal Osberg's revolver brought him to the ground, though not hurt. His auto was confiscated and some fifteen pints of liquor is in the hands of the officers. Dinwiddie was taken before the United States commissioner at Brainerd and bound over to the Federal grand jury, which meets at Duluth on July 8, then released upon putting up $1,000 bail.

FAMILY BARELY ESCAPE WITH LIVES

THE HOUSE AND CONTENTS LOST

Baby Had Been Sick and Fire in Stove Started, and Family Retired—Fire Follows

Driven out of their burning home at 2 o'clock this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Johnson and family of 923 Mill street, barely escaped with their lives. House and contents were destroyed. The structure has a tar paper roof and caught fire from the stovepipe.

When the fire department reached the scene the place was almost reduced to ashes.

The family was taking care of a sick baby and in the early morning hours a fire had been built in the stove. After the baby was attended to, they retired and shortly the house was in flames.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES SECURED

Practical Discussions of Subjects All Important to Development of Northern Minnesota

Additional features of the Northern Minnesota Development Association convention program at Cass Lake on June 20-21 have been arranged by the secretary and those who attend are assured of some practical discussions on subjects all-important to the development of Northern Minnesota.

Otto I. Bergh, Superintendent of the Northern Central Experiment Station at Grand Rapids, recently attended a land clearing demonstration at Cumberland, Wisconsin, with a delegation from St. Paul and will make a comprehensive report on his trip and recommendations for clearing land based upon the demonstrations he saw in Wisconsin. Henry Funston, of the Soo Line, who has also taken an active interest in land clearing work is another speaker on this subject the committee is arranging to have present.

C. R. Hutchinson, Editor of the "Cloverland Magazine," Menominee, Michigan, will probably be present and give a short talk on sheep raising and the adaptation of Northern Minnesota for the same.

Mrs. T. G. Winter of Minneapolis, State Chairman of the Women's Council of Defense, has been invited to speak on the subject, "Community Service" and if she can be secured this will prove a very attractive feature of the program and especially interesting to the many ladies who are expected to attend. Mrs. Winter is widely known as having taken an important part in the leadership for constructive work in the state and she has many warm friends and admirers in Northern Minnesota.

These additional features will make the program all the more attractive and those who attend are assured of not only a delightful outing, but of practical discussions along constructive lines which will be of benefit to the public as a whole.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Fat Wood is getting to be famous. Whereas in France every community claims to have a well from which Napoleon drank, thus attesting to his great thirst and universal method of satisfying it and the museum contain various articles of wearing apparel of the great Bonaparte, coming back to these days we find moving picture houses fighting for the privilege to display Fat Wood's pants.

An error in proof reading of a Sunday church notice caused a commotion in the congregation of Pastor G. Mueller of Zion Lutheran church, corner Main and Broadway. The notice last week by mistake read that services in the morning started at 8 o'clock. The telephone was kept busy explaining it had one result entirely unlooked for, nobody was late for church when it started at the regular hour of 10 A. M.

Graham, the oil man, has a bull dog, Cub, which delights to ride on the oil truck. If some other dog is given his place, he sulks half a week and pays no attention to caresses and won't even wiggle his stub of a tail. He very plainly shows that he resents usurpation of his seat on the truck.

"The way to have a banquet" said Con O'Brien while in rem-berent mood, "is the good old fashioned way of putting all the stuff on the table and helping yourself."

"A Mother's Devotion" was the title of a pretentious home talent play given at fresco by a bevy of little girls, Irene Englund, Margie Gile, Frances and Marguerite Ives. A large audience was in attendance and traffic was blocked on South Seventh street as the show proceeded on Molstad's big lawn.

R. H. Rehl, Brainerd's band leader, directed the Lake Harriet band in Minneapolis in earlier days and also played under Rosser. Monday evening Mr. Rehl "sat in" with the Fourth Infantry band and played under his old leader.

To Help Save Grain Crop

(By United Press)

Washington, June 9.—The Department of Agriculture has started a campaign against the careless threshermen. It wants only "clean straw ricks" left of the greatest grain crop the nation ever has known, according to a statement made public recently. So the threshermen will be aided by the government to develop efficiency and avoid loss in separating the wheat from the chaff.

Records of the department reveal startling losses of grain "through avoidable waster of threshermen." Tests made in "just ordinary" crop years show that an average of 25,000,000 to 27,000,000 bushels is thus thrown away. What it will be this year, unless the waste is eliminated, the department believed would be worth much more than the campaign of education would cost the government.

In Minnesota, where the department made comprehensive tests covering 6,500 threshing machines last year, it was found that more than 25 per cent of machines wasted an average of 15 bushels of grain a day each. This loss, according to the figures, was largely through machines being out of repair or through lack of adjustment. Some of the Minnesota threshers wasted as much as 50 bushels per day of the threshing season. The daily average for the 6,500 machines according to the records was: wheat, 4.69 bushels and oats, 9.1 bushels per machine.

ROLL OF HONOR

Louis Ingund for many months in war service, is expected home this week.

Corp. Fred Sargent of the 88th Division returned home Saturday. He went to Trommald today to visit his parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pichler have received word that their son, Sergt. William Pichler, arrived in Boston Saturday and will soon be home. He is a member of the 360th Infantry, Machine Gun Battalion, of the 90th Division.

Roy Walte, fifteen months in war service, arrived at Newport News, Virginia, and will shortly go to Camp Grant to be mustered out.

Pvt. Albert Englund has arrived at Norfolk, Va., and will soon be home. Art Turcotte, returned from overseas, will soon be mustered out at Camp Dodge.

Remarkable Egg Record

A four-month record for thirty hens is herewith given by Homer J. Dickerson of Outing. Mr. Dickerson submits the report just to show what can be done in the chicken business. He has the Plymouth Rock breed of birds and gives a detailed report which, when summarized gives the following totals for the months of January, February, March and April:

January	573
February	556
March	578
April	609

This makes an average of nineteen and three-tenths eggs per day for the period, the percentage being 64 1-3. At 40 cents a dozen, there was a production of $77.20 worth of eggs from thirty hens.

It is fair to assume this average throughout the entire year, which would make a yield of $231.60 or $7.72 per hen. Do hens pay?

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the Employee

THE relationship existing between the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and its employees has always been so harmonious as to constitute one large, happy family.

As the stronger guard and care for the weaker in the small family, just so has the Company looked after those of its employees who have grown old in the service—a liberal annuity attends the pressure of advancing years.

For those active in the service the Company provides steady employment, good working conditions and satisfactory compensation.

In return the Company has required efficiency—the kind of whole-hearted, painstaking effort which a well paid employee, working under pleasant conditions, is glad and happy to give.

It is this working spirit, developing in this highly specialized branch of industry the highest type of co-operative interest, which enables the Company to discharge its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory and beneficial to the public, and to the 4628 stockholders, not one of whom holds as much as ten percent of the total stock.

There are 19,568 men and women in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) family, more than double the enrollment of ten years ago—yet of those who were with the Company in 1909, more than 2000 are still actively engaged in the business, while over 800 are wearing the gold button, symbolizing twenty years of continuous service.

OLD THINGS UNDER THE SUN

Democracy in Ancient Jewish Days and the League of Nations, Are Two.

The democratic idea is of great antiquity, the Christian Herald reminds its readers. Under the prophets and judges, Israel was a democracy. It was not until they were fascinated by the barbaric splendor and unrestrained license of the heathen nations around them that they began to be dissatisfied with their own simple ways and to long for a king and a showy court. It was the lure of sin and worldly vanity. Samuel warned them against courts and kings and told them of what would happen, but his warnings went unheeded. The vision of the age of peace began as early as eight centuries B. C., but it was not until the Christian era that the world change in the existing order fully dawned upon the minds of men. The idea of a league of nations is not new. Such a league was foreshadowed by Jean Bloch, in his remarkable book, "The Future of War," issued 20 years ago. It was also foreseen by Emanuel Kant, who, in his essay on "Perpetual Peace," wrote that the law of nations must be based on the federation of free states. At different times leaders in national and international reform have had visions of such a league, but always as a possibility of the remote future. It has remained for the United States to promulgate it at a time when the world seems prepared to listen.

He had determined to "mop up"—not in the sense, however, that one thinks of these days. He had seen a mop such as he desired advertised for 98 cents (original price $1.50), and made haste to get one, for he had also determined to buy nothing unless it was "on sale." The mop cost 98 cents, a handle 10 cents extra, a bottle of polish was added for good measure. He proceeded to drop the bottle, and as the mop without the polish was useless, it was necessary to buy another bottle, which set him back 50 cents. The bargain cost him $1.60 instead of 98 cents, as he had pictured. However, he is still determined to beat the H. C. L.

Brainerd bunched hits off Verndale early in the game, hammered Bungo Towers with as much facility as it did C. Farr his successor, in the seventh inning and won out 8 to 0. In the fourth inning Bush, center fielder, scooped in Anderson's fly ball and quickly relayed it to Cook on first, catching Miller, making a pretty double play. Lefty Hier struck out 11. Brainerd fattened up its batting average by making nine single, 4 two-baggers and a sacrifice hit off Towers in six innings and two singles and a two-bagger off C. Farr in two frames.

In the sixth inning Miller, short, of Verndale, was the first man to get to second base. In the ninth inning Miller was the first to make third, but died there as the side went out.

Verndale had to abandon its cars and resort to train service to make Brainerd.

Brainerd did its scoring in the third, fifth, sixth and eighth frames. The fifth was remarkable as all scoring was done when two men were out. Gaskill and Templeton flew out and then Cook, Benda and Bush each hammered a two-bagger off Bungo Towers, and Carlson and Sheffo followed with singles.

Verndale had a gleam of hope in the ninth. Miller got a single and went to third on Anderson's two-bagger. Both died on bases as R. Farr went out, pitcher to first and Dickinson and Beven struck out.

ANOKA BASEBALL

Pillsbury Team of Minneapolis Easily Defeated 13 to 1 by Anoka. Last Sunday Game Off

That Anoka has a real ball club this season was shown to a king's taste on Memorial day when they easily defeated the fast Pillsbury team of Minneapolis by a score of 13 to 1. Lefty Henry was in the box for Anoka. He allowed only 4 hits and struck out 16 men. The local team looked like a well behaved machine being good fielders and above all they can all pickle the ball in good shape with the willow.

Sunday's game was called off on account of wet grounds and Princeton will be played on a later date.

Champion, Ex-Champion and Near Champion

Jim Jeffries was always considered the grizzly bear of the prize ring. Comparing him with Jess Willard it is difficult to find a term that indicates that Willard is a much bigger man than the former champion. Here they are together, with Kid McCoy, Jack Dempsey.

Marie Heister, Freeport, Ill., writes, "I had more or less of a cough for 10 years and I have taken quite a number of medicines. None of them takes hold and helps like Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills. This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. H. P. Pass the Salt!

Two reporters were boasting of the speed of their shorthand writing.

"Whenever I am reporting at a meeting on a warm evening, all the people try to get near to my table."

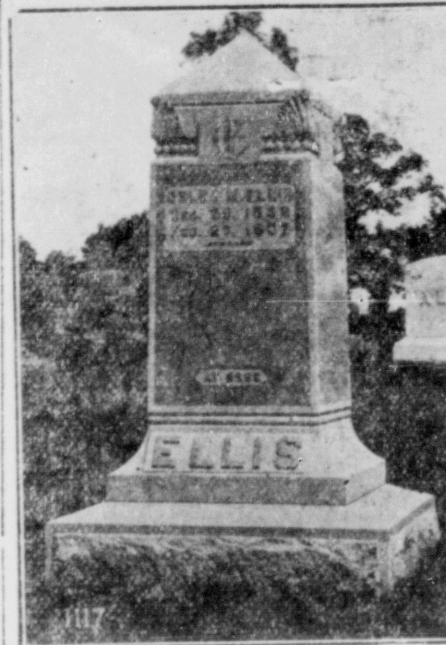

"Why?" asked the other.

"Because," said the pen pusher, "my hand goes so fast that it creates a current of air like a fan."

"A mere nothing," said number two. "I always have to report on wet paper, or else the current of air caused by the movement of my hand would blow it away. Besides the paper has to be wetted every few minutes, because the friction caused by the rapid movements of my arm would set fire to it in no time."

Quick Breathing an Anaesthetic.

United States scientists who have been conducting experiments in the art of breathing claim to have demonstrated that rapid breathing of pure oxygen acts as an anaesthetic and renders a person insensible to pain as long as it is maintained. Of course, after the rapid inhalations cease the pain will be felt. By a little training, it is said, a person may induce sound sleep by deep and rapid breathing for a few minutes.

BIG ADS. FOR BIG BUSINESS

If Your Business Is Small Try a Little Ad. and Watch Your BUSINESS GROW.

The Advertisements Have Something to say to You

If a merchant or manufacturer could gather 5,000 or 10,000 or 100,000 prospective buyers into a large auditorium and talk to them daily—by word of mouth—he would have no need of advertisements. But he cannot.

So he puts his words in type and talks to these same prospective buyers each day in the printed messages that you know as advertisements.

In this newspaper today you will find many such personal messages from merchants and manufacturers.

Some are large and some are small. They cover a wide range of subjects. They are worthy of your careful reading.

No merchant or manufacturer would spend his good money advertising if his merchandise were not of good quality and fairly priced. It wouldn't pay!

Don't miss the advertisements. They'll save you money.
